

Ideas Organiser: Crime and Punishment (Year 5)

Knowledge:

- How the nature of crimes and punishments changed over 1000 years and be able to place the main ones in chronological order
- How some punishments were introduced for a short time and then replaced with others e.g. the Bloody Code and Transportation
- That society's attitude to crime has changed over time and has become less harsh.
- Some punishments that we think have been around for hundreds of years are actually relatively recent e.g. growth of prisons in Victorian times.
- Changes in society often bring about an increase in crime e.g. the growth of towns and cities in the early 19th century.
- That new crimes are always appearing, such as cyber crime, causing the police to learn new methods of dealing with it.
- That there are different states of matter: solids, liquids and gases
- That some materials can dissolve into liquids.
- That some changes are permanent (irreversible) and some aren't permanent (reversible).
- That there are different states of matter: solid, liquid and gas.
- That when some materials are mixed together, there is a permanent change where a new material is made.
- There are different forces acting upon us all of the time.
- Unsupported objects will fall down to Earth due to the effect of gravity acting upon it.
- The use of a pulley, lever or gear allow a smaller force to have a larger impact e.g.:
